

I Will Not Be Silent

In this jubilee year of the 800th anniversary of the founding of the Order of Preachers, we might well ask what is the point of preaching? Today's reading and psalm impel us to this: 'About Zion I will not be silent, about Jerusalem I will not grow weary, until her integrity shines out like the dawn and her salvation flames like a torch.'

We were founded to preach for the salvation of souls. The Psalm exhorts us to sing a new song to the Lord. What is new after eight hundred years of preaching? Surely in this year of mercy it is that which we seek in the words of profession into the Dominican Order, 'God's mercy and yours.'

Our preaching is a gift of the Spirit, according to St Paul in the second reading of today, the first Epistle to the Corinthians, Chapter 12. One person may have the gift of preaching with wisdom given to him or her, by the Spirit. Another person may have the gift of instruction, as a form of preaching, given to him or her by the same Spirit. Surely this is the scriptural basis of our charism of theological preaching, the calling to speak like St Dominic, who was said always to be speaking about God or to God.

In this jubilee year we also face the prospect of a Provincial Chapter which will be considering our places of preaching, for the present and the future. At the same time, we face, especially in England and Scotland, political issues over the future 'shape' of our land. This is both an internal matter, as regards the future of the United Kingdom, and an external matter as regards membership of the European Union.

In today's Gospel, Jesus, his mother and the disciples are invited to a wedding feast at Cana in Galilee. In the Gospel of St John, his preaching begins, both in word and deed, in response to a human need. 'Woman, why turn to me, my hour has not yet come' he says to his mother, and yet she responds by saying to the servants, 'Do whatever he tells you.' In this way, the water is turned into wine.

His hour will come on the Cross and at his death, blood and water will issue from his sacred side. This has been taken by his believers to be a sign of the sacraments of Baptism and the Eucharist, already prefigured at the wedding feast at Cana. 'You have kept the best wine till now'. Washed in the water of rebirth, we are now nourished at the Lord's supper in the eating of his Body and the drinking of his Blood.

We are told at the end of today's Gospel, that Jesus let his glory be seen in this miracle, the first of the signs given by Jesus and that his disciples believed in him. We too are called to be believing disciples sent out by him to preach a word of mercy and hope, and to celebrate this in the sacraments, both to and for our human world.

Perhaps the preaching of wisdom and instruction is needed more now than ever before. We are exhorted in the psalm to tell among the nations, the glory of God, and his wonders among all his peoples. However, it needs to be done in a humble and sympathetic manner responding to the needs of those who hear us, just as Jesus did at the behest of his blessed mother in today's Gospel account.

We hope and pray that as a Province and as the Order of Preachers, we might be graced by the Spirit, with the vision and energy to sing a new song to the Lord, wherever and whenever it is needed. This includes working with those of other faiths and none in the building of a more just, loving and merciful world in the face of so much violence and hatred.

Appeal for Refugees & Asylum Seekers. As always we are very grateful for the generosity of those who give to this appeal. The need remains great. Recently there has been a mixture of clothing, dry groceries and baby items, but there is now rather more clothing than needed, so we do ask you to concentrate on goods that are going to be of immediate practical assistance to a person: mainly food (non perishable of course), toiletries, baby clothes and requirements. Please leave these items in the sacristy after any Mass. Thank you.

Interested in becoming a Catholic? The RCIA (Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults) course takes place each Tuesday at 7pm. This programme is aimed at those who are interested in becoming Catholics, whether they have not been baptised or baptised in a different Christian tradition, and it is geared to the reception of sacraments at Easter. It also caters for adult Catholics who have not been confirmed, or those who simply feel it is time for a refresher course. Please see Fr David.

Mother Goose. The Kirby Muxloe Players present this pantomime adventure in the Village Hall from Sunday 24 January to Saturday 30 January at 2.30pm (Sunday and Saturday) and 7.30pm (Wednesday to Saturday). Cor et Lumen Christi. Damian Stayne is the founder of Cor et Lumen Christi, a community recognized by the Vatican. He is a very gifted teacher and preacher. He has a remarkable gift of physical healing miracles, seeing thousands healed through his ministry in more than 25 countries. He has considerable experience guiding people in prayer drawing on the rich tradition of the Church and his own life of faithfulness to regular intimate prayer. This year Pope Francis has invited us to celebrate a year of mercy. Pope St John Paul II wrote that humanity is "destined for grace and glory". We believe that God, seeing the battle Christians are experiencing in an often hostile secular culture, desires that we experience in new and wonderful ways his merciful grace and the beauty and power of his manifest glory among us. There will be a 2-day event in Central London on 13 & 14 February. The Registration fee is £15, and booking is compulsory. For details see www.coretlumenchristi.org or call 01932 565747.
